

DEUS® 7300T Back-Up Belay System

Like "Big Brother", it's always watching over you.

Ideal for training and rescue, the DEUS 7300T is a completely hands-free back-up belay. Unlike human belay operators, the DEUS 7300T is always vigilant, instantly and automatically setting you safely on the ground if your primary system fails.

Designed for repetitive use, this NFPA-certified system keeps a 12 mm DEUS Back-Up Belay rope active at all times, yet completely out of the way. No tug on the back from an improperly attended belay line. If descent speed exceeds 2 meters per second, the 7300T instantly and automatically takes control to guard against free fall. The 7300T does a "soft engagement" to prevent shock load and injury.

Now you can experiment with and perfect standard operating procedures for bailout, evacuation and rescue with confidence, knowing that back-up belay is automatic and done right. Because rope runs through the 7300T reversibly without re-rigging, back-to-back evolutions are fast, easy and foolproof.

The DEUS 7300T is a highly flexible system too. Rig to a high anchor to support multiple sequential descents without re-rigging. Rig the system to an anchor on the ground, running the belay line through a high-anchor pulley, if you want to control descent via the free end of the rope.

Purchase a complete flexible-component kit from DEUS Rescue to set up a safe, simple and smooth-running back-up belay system, or purchase just the DEUS 7300T and 12 mm DEUS Back-Up Belay rope to build your own belay system. (See page 2 for kit components.)

NOTE the DEUS 7300T is certified for use ONLY with DEUS Back-Up Belay Rope (sold separately).

Sold as part of a complete "flexible kit."
See page 2 for details.
